FOREWORD

Who could forget?

Who could forget the anticipation and excitement felt by the sophomores? The first day as a senior high-er, the new impression of being treated a little more maturely than last year? Or waiting eagerly for that Big Day, Color Day? Mixed lunch periods, swimming at the Y, electing class officers, and Color Day representatives all helped to create a feeling of belonging for the newest f l e d g l i n g s in the CASHS halls.

Who could forget the juniors' anticipation and excitement? Ordering class rings and praying for them to come on time? Or that ghastly first speech? Renewing last year's acquaintances, selling door-to-door for the class project, joining clubs which were out of one's status last year, and knowing beforehand the class motto and cheer, all come under the heading of Juniors.

And who could ever forget the anticipation and excitement of the seniors? So much to do in so little time (it seemed). Selling candy, ordering announcements, getting all that h o m e w o r k done on time, participating in club work, and various other activities come with the title Senior. The New York trip is something the seniors can feel proud of, for it was made possible by their own classmates. But the big day for seniors is graduation, when we pass through the door from high school s t u d e n t s to young adults. Who could forget that?

Who could forget what it is like to be young and optimistic? Our high school life has changed us from awkward teenagers to persons with ideas and feelings of our own. All these beautiful and even sad memories of CASHS are recounted in the 1970 Echo, so no one can forget.

HI THERE!—Not really, these teachers were just having a swinging time singing with the Up With People group at a CASHS assembly.

ART DEPARTMENT—The art classes explore a variety of media experiences by painting with instant coffee and shoe polish. Art appreciation both past and present is encouraged throughout the year. In more advanced classes complete study and rendering of the painting "isms" is developed. During the year, art club field trips are made to the York School of Art, the Hagerstown Museum, the National Gallery in Washington, D. C., and the Baltimore Art Museum.

DRIVER EDUCATION DEPARTMENT—To develop the student's ability to operate an automobile safely and efficiently is the immediate practical purpose of driver education. Strong foundations of good driving habits, knowledge and skills, prepare the student for a lifetime of safe, efficient motor vehicle operation.

The classroom phase and practice during instruction constitute a two-part program designed to meet these objectives.

Sophomores receive the classroom instructions, examining and studying the qualifications of the driver, traffic laws (man-made and natural), and special driving problems (city, county, freeway, and adverse driving).

In the practice driving phase, students gain experience by observing, listening and by actual driving in a dual-controlled automobile. Students have the opportunity to establish good driving habits that will make them confident, efficient and safe traffic citizens of the future. —John J. Harding, Department Chairman.

BUSINESS EDUCATION DEPARTMENT—The Business Education Department of the Chambersburg Area Senior High School has organized its program of studies to meet the needs, interests, and abilities of the students as they apply to business education. The student who wishes to prepare for a business position follows a suggested program which defers specialization until the junior year. The vocational choices are those recommended by the Department of Education for a large high school. There are three areas of specialization: stenographic, bookkeeping, and clerical. Many of the courses offered in the Business Education Department provide practical business knowledge, skills, and ideals which are important in business and social living. These courses are offered as elective subjects to students enrolled for the general or college preparatory courses.

The primary purpose of the stenographic sequence is to provide vocational training for students who want to become stenographers and secretaries. Provision is made for thorough training in the fundamentals of shorthand and typewriting. Transcription, office practice, secretarial practice and office machines apply instruction to typical job problems.

The bookkeeping sequence is vocational and is planned to prepare students for bookkeeping positions. Typewriting is required of all pupils in this program because many bookkeeping jobs require this skill. Office practice, office machines, business law, consumer education are other courses included in this curriculum.

The clerical sequences is recommended to meet the needs of students who wish to do general clerical work in an office. Skill in typewriting and operating office machines is a requirement for entering these positions. In addition to these courses, business law, office practice, consumer education, record keeping or bookkeeping are required courses.—Ronald M. Lawhead, Department Chairman.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT—Since the ability to communicate with others is more important today, the English Department has established the following objective to meet this need: to increase reading comprehension and speed; to offer opportunities to practice writing of various types; to develop listening skills; to develop an appreciation of good literature; to increase active and passive vocabulary; to develop habits conducive to good oral English.

By offering a three track program the English Department has patterned its teaching to meet the varying needs and abilities of its students.

The classes are conducted in both a formal and informal atmosphere which encourages participation in dramatization, panel discussions, and committee work.

For those who excel in literature and creative writing, Advanced English is available by taking a precourse test and submitting a writing sample. Open to seniors, it helps to prepare those students for advance placement in college. For those interested in scholastic journalism and the fundamentals of newspaper writing Journalism I and II are offered. The production of the school paper and the yearbook provide practical experience for the journalism students.—Martha E. Campbell, Department Chairman.

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT—The guidance program is an invaluable part of the functioning of any modern high school. Its main objectives are to assist each student to adjust to his present school and home life and to plan for a successful future whether it be college, career, civil service, or homemaking. Individual counseling is a face relationship in which the counselor and counselee together talk through a problem for the purpose of helping the counselee gain an insight into his problem, plan a course of action, reach a decision, and assume responsibility for that decision.—Jeanne H. Kirby, Department Chairman.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT—A physical education program is designed to meet the needs and interests of all participating students. Controlled experiences not only provide for physical growth, but for the mental and social development of each child.

The physical aspect implies the organic development of the individual. This is attained through activities and experiences offered, which have as their goal the development of endurance, agility, skills, versatility, strength, and efficiency of movement. The outcome sought through this area is only a part of the total picture of a well-adjusted student.—Thomas J. Carroll, Department Chairman.

HISTORY AND SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT—The aim of the social studies department is twofold: first, to present history as real people meeting real problems in former eras of American history and in other societies in World Cultures; second, to emphasize the obligations and the power of the individual in present day society. In American Government, students learn to realize that there are many ways in which they may become a useful, responsible member of their world. They learn how their decisions and actions have a direct and important effect on society. More attention is currently being given to cultural history, the inquiry teaching method and a better understanding and respect for the place of minority groups in our society as well as in the international community.—Pamellia G. Erickson, Department Chairman.

LANGUAGES DEPARTMENT—The foreign language department offers instruction in French, German, Latin, and Spanish. The language laboratory enables the students to learn the modern languages by audoral techniques. However, the primary aim of the department is not only to acquaint the student with the spoken language but also with associated literature and culture. By a study of other languages, the student learns to understand and appreciate his heritage and at the same time remove the language barrier to international understanding.—Elizabeth R. Elder, Department Chairman.

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT—The increased use of the high school library for reference has been noted as a nation-wide trend. Daily records indicate that our own library follows this trend. As is sometimes true, total attendance or circulation figures cannot tell the full story. It must be measured by the number of different classes or subject areas preparing assignments in the library as well as repeated use of the same book or magazine during a class to visit to the library. Also, when a collection of material is used in the classroom it is impossible to keep a record. These are intangibles, but the results of the Iowa tests for the past years in the category. Use Of Source, are tangible evidence of its effect.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT—The mathematics department offers complete preparation for those students who wish to become scientists or engineers. Having had Algebra I and Algebra II in the junior high schools, they may take modern geometry, pre-calculus, and a full year of calculus in the senior high school. The liberal arts student may also prepare himself mathematically by taking Algebra II, plane geometry and an integrated course in college algebra and trigonometry.

Applied mathematics and general mathematics also offered for these people who do not want to prepare for a career requiring more mathematics but must satisfy the state requirement of one year of mathematics in senior high school.—J. Herbert Swartz, Department Chairman.

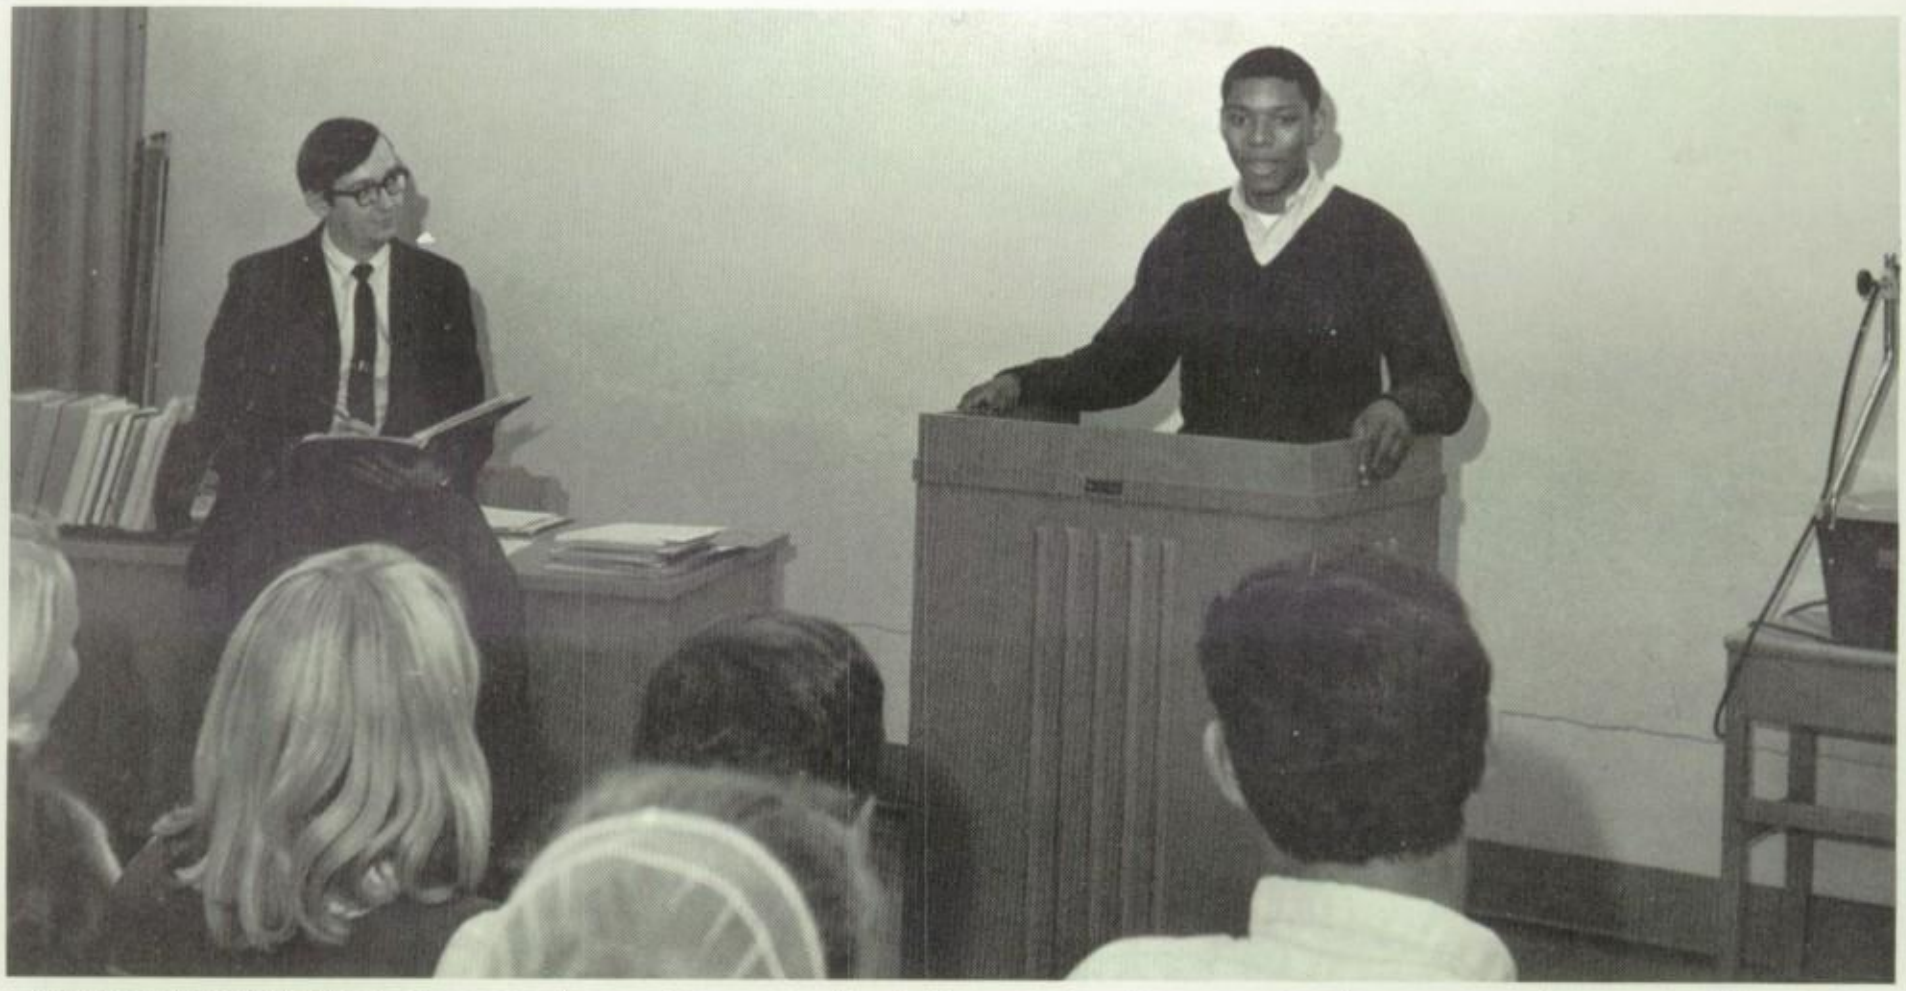
MUSIC DEPARTMENT—A wide variety of courses, class, and performing groups are offered by the Music Department to stimulate the thoughts, understanding, and appreciation of music in our society. General Music, Music Appreciation, Theory, or Instrumental Music are open to all students. The Glee Club, Marching Band, and Symphonic Band's memberships are determined through personal auditions.

Credit is given to the students who participate in the major performing groups which perform daily. In addition to the orchestra, which rehearses twice a week, the music department sponsors several vocal and instrumental ensembles that provide practical experience for the more talented students and broaden the performance aspect at school and civic functions.—Paul Lucas, Department Chairman.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT—The Science Department offers courses to prepare students for most occupations where a general background in science is desirable. These courses also alert and prepare the student for college, Biology, Micro Biology, Advanced Biology, Chemistry, Chem Study, Physics—conventional and modern—, and Advanced Physics are among the courses the student may elect. The courses are taught in well equipped classroom laboratories.—G. Glendon Weeks, Department Chairman.

SPECIAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT—The Department of Special Education is one of the busiest, most integrated departments in the school. Academically, the department not only serves the needs of those pupils who function at a low academic level but also is available for the students in need of remedial work in arithmetic and English.

Open to juniors and seniors in Special Education is the Work Experience Program which has gained statewide recognition. It gives those pupils who are eligible an opportunity to receive practical work experience in local industry and business. Whenever pupils in Special Education show an ability to do work in any curricular area, the services of all the departments in the school are available to them.



SPEECH DEPARTMENT—In speech class a wide variety of activities are planned so as to benefit as many students as possible and to improve their oral ability. Outside of class the department advises an increasing number of speech related activities including the newly formed Speech and Drama club.—David L. Barner, Department Chairman.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT—Students enrolled in the Vocational Agricultural Program receive instruction in the following areas: Agricultural Production, Plant and Soil Science, Agricultural Mechanics, Agricultural Supplies, Agricultural Products, Agricultural Resources, Forestry, and Ornamental Horticulture.

Today's demand for attention to science is truly recognition of the Vocational Agricultural Program. For Vocational Agriculture includes understanding, study, and practical application of many sciences—chemistry, zoology, biology, mathematics, and others. Scientific application of plants and animal studies, and farm power makes it possible for a few to feed millions.

The future well-being of our country depends upon an uninterrupted flow of farm products that can be maintained only by educated, industrious farmers who use accepted scientific practices in the management of their agricultural businesses.—Dalton Paul, Department Chairman.

VOCATIONAL HOMEMAKING DEPARTMENT—The Vocational Homemaking Department is provided to prepare girls for their future responsibilities as homemakers.

The homemaking units consist of Foods, Entertaining, Clothing, Children's Clothing, Flower Arranging, Interior Decoration, Family Living, Child Care, Region Foods, Foreign Foods, Knitting, and Money Management.

Homemaking is structured as Homemaking I, II, and III. Vocational Homemaking may also be taken as an elective, Homemaking I and II.—Majorie B. Burket, Department Chairman.

1970 HIGHLIGHT—Class President Brad Gsell presents the class gift to William A. Robinson, Assistant Principal, at the 1969 Color Day festivities.

HEAD SIZE—Getting ready for graduation includes many things, one of which is being measured for caps and gowns.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE STUDENT

Mercedes shows her American sister some native dolls she brought from Peru.

The international language of the occult has an appeal to all.

MERCEDES ARAGON-MARMANILLO
Foreign Exchange Student

Cuzco, Peru, is the home country of this year's exchange student, Mercedes Aragon-Marmanillo. At home Mercedes has three sisters and a brother, while in her Chambersburg home she has two sisters and a brother. Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Holtz, Kurt, Leanne and Linda, Mercedes' sisters, all are helping to make this year in America one to remember.

Since Mercedes arrival in August, 1969, she has acquired some favorites, among them the American people and snow. She is very active in CASHS and likes our announcement system, elective subjects, and language labs. In Cuzco, the students have as many as thirteen or fourteen subjects and no study hall.

After leaving the United States in June, Mercedes wants to go to college in Peru to become a tourist guide. The CASHS students and faculty wish her all of the best as she returns from her year away from home.

Whether you're in America or Peru, there are always dishes to do.

Host family, the Holtzes, pose for a formal portrait with the foreign exchange student. Seated: Linda, Mercedes, Leanne, Mr. Holtz. Standing: Mrs. Holtz and Kurt.

MOTTO

We the class of '71 forever striving till peace is won.

SONG

We are the mighty class of seventy-one,
Peace and fame will be won.
We are the guiding light for men to unite,
And set the world abright.
As we go forging through the door of the future,
Our land will be secure.
For seventy-one is the class that will always surpass with blue and gold.

CHEER

We the class of '71
Will lead the rest in years to come
While the others lag behind
'71 will make the climb
For we shall unite the world in peace
And falter we shall do the least.
For we are strong and we are bold
Proudly wearing blue and gold.

ART CLUB

The most outstanding art students of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes comprise this year's Art Club.

Funds obtained through bake sales, a Christmas Bazaar, and various other projects enabled the club to attend the National Gallery of Art in Washington D. C. This trip further acquainted its members with the field and mystery of art.

Hoping to gain still a further understanding of this culture, the club viewed film strips and demonstrations, listened to guest speakers, and participated in various art projects throughout the year.

To give each member the opportunity to advance in any ability that he might possess, is the purpose of the 181 voice Glee Club. Under the direction of Paul Lucas the members meet daily and practice for two annual concerts, one presented at Christmas, the other in the spring. These annual concerts presented to both the student body and the area public, represent some of the more colorful and talented performances of the school. Through these concerts, members gain much practical experience in stage performance. Glee Club members are selected from the student body with an audition with Mr. Lucas.

ECHO EDITORIAL STAFF

Each year the memories of our CASHS life are gathered and put into the Echo. The editorial staff, consists of sophomores, juniors, and seniors, allowing a wide range of interests and talents to be put into the production of the yearbook. Hours of hard work by members go into making the book a success. A staffer may perform such duties as drawing layout mats, cropping pictures, writing captions, or proofreading pages. By this, we strive to make the 1970 Echo a collection of remembrances that we shall never forget.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Through active participation in the Future Farmers of America Club, the young men enrolled in vocational agriculture learn how to speak in public meetings and how to assume civic responsibilities. By engaging in such activities, the members develop competent, agressive, rural and agricultural leadership.

During the course of the year, the club undertakes many different projects. They grow several varieties of chrysanthemums and poinsettias which are then sold. The club also sells seeds for the Ag-Way Cooperative, for which they receive a set commission. These projects enable the FFA to attend the State Farm Show, South Mountain Fair, and many other judging contests.

The FFA holds an annual parents and son banquet at which time the young men are awarded pins and certificates in accordance with their achievements.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The aims of the Future Teachers of America Club are to familiarize young people with the teaching profession—its goals and its accomplishments, to encourage students to enter the teaching profession, to acquaint students with the wide range of opportunities and fields of study available today, and to provide opportunities for students to participate in learning/teaching experiences similar to those they will encounter as members of the profession.

To accomplish these aims, a wide variety of programs are presented including guest speakers who are members of the profession, student-teacher debates, panel discussions, films, and the newly instituted cadet-teacher program. The club is composed of fifty-five members who elect their own officers and plan their own programs. Each year delegates are chosen to attend a state and two regional conventions.

The Tom Tiede Chapter of the Quill and Scroll was first initiated in 1967 in CASHS. An international club of honorary high school journalists, the Quill and Scroll consists of juniors and seniors on the publication staffs—the Parrot Staff and the Echo Staff who have met the requirements. These are as follows: (1) he must be in the upper fifth of his class (2) he must have done outstanding work on the publications; and (3) he must be approved by the adviser and the secretary of the club. The purpose of the club is to inspire a zeal for journalism in interested students.

This process is continued in the Journalism II class with the actual production of the Parrot. The paper is put out once a month to keep the administration, faculty, and students informed and entertained. The Parrot provides practical experience for students in the field of journalism.

CHAMBERSBURG AREA SENIO

The Symphonic Band begins rehearsals following football season. Most of the work leads toward its two concerts given in February and May. Although the membership is basically the same in both the Marching and Symphonic Bands, the instrumentation is quite different, along with the style and quality of music. Whereas the Marching version of the Band had leaned toward the popular, pep, swing style of repertoire, the Symphonic Band's music consists of overtures, symphonies, show tunes and concert marches. Aside from the two major concerts, the band also plays for Color Day, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

CHAMBERSBURG AREA SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL MARCHING BAND.

MARCHING BAND

The Trojan Marching Band performs at all CASHS football games during the season, plus numerous local and area parades. Each year the Band attends a one-week marching band camp at Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania. During this period, the Band is drilled in marching and maneuvering and music. Although the days are long and tiring, the spirits of the members reflect the pride and enthusiasm developed by the camp. This year the Band numbered sixty-five musicians; eighteen color guards; six majorettes and a drum major. The Band is basically a precision drill outfit with very little formation work being done.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

The varsity cheerleaders are chosen to promote school spirit and support for the Trojan athletic teams. They cheer mainly at varsity football and basketball games, and occasionally at cross country meets and girls' hockey and basketball games. Throughout the year, these girls charter buses for away football games, hold Booster Club rallies, and sponsor blue-white days. To aid the teams' preparations for their games, and to help celebrate Trojan victories, the cheerleaders decorate the team room and present the team with cakes.

This year's squad attended a camp for cheerleaders in Silver Bay, New York. The week-long camp, which was held in June, brought success to the CASHS girls. They received three first places, two second places, one third, and a trophy. The main objective of camps such as this is to teach cheerleaders new cheers, chants, and pom-pom routines.

The junior varsity cheerleaders keep very busy while preparing for a position on the varsity squad. Their main job is cheering at all the junior varsity football and basketball games. In addition to this, they usher at the home varsity football games and assist the varsity cheerleaders with Booster Club rallies and blue-white days. The j.v. cheerleaders also help boost the morale of the L'il Trojans by decorating the team room and getting cakes for the teams.

UP IN THE AIR—Varsity Cheerleaders give a jump for the Trojan cagers.

SOCCER & WRESTLING CHEERLEADERS

An addition to CASHS this year is the soccer-wrestling cheerleading squad. Aside from their big job of supporting the soccer and wrestling teams, these seven girls help sponsor Booster Club rallies and blue-white days. Along with the j.v. squad, they usher at home varsity football games. Throughout their seasons of play, the soccer and wrestling teams are given cakes and cookies by this squad.

TRACK AND FIELD

TRACK AND FIELD

The 1969 Track and Field team ushered in head coach Howard Strawmyre's first season together by capturing eleven wins in the eleven meets.

Chambersburg participated in three invitational meets—Chambersburg, Dickinson, and Shippensburg. The Trojans notched a first place in the Chambersburg meet, a second at Dickinson, and a sixth place in the Shippensburg meet. A first in the history of our school, the CASHS track team won first place at the District III Track meet. Van (Jazz) Barbour captured first place in the 440 yard run. Seconds were taken by Jim Robinson in the 180 yard low hurdles, and by Chip Lewis in the one mile run. Having qualified for the state meet, Van Barbour won a medal for second place in the 400 yard run. Jim Robinson took fifth place in the 180 yard low hurdles, while Chip Lewis placed sixth in the one-mile run.

Another highlight of the season was the team's all-out effort and success in becoming the first to defeat John Harris in five years on the Harrisburg field.

In the running events, Van Barbour broke the 400 yard run with a time of 48.5. Chip Lewis broke the 880 yard run with a time of 1:59.5, and Jim Robinson broke the 120 high hurdles with a 14.6 and the 180 low hurdles with 19.7. The 880 Relay team, consisting of Denver Gadberry, Tom Sites, Rudy Kelly, and Van Barbour, bettered the time of last year's for a 1:31.1. The Mile Relay team, with Denver Gadberry, Denny Ausherman, Rudy Kelly and Van Barbour, broke the record with 3:26.0. In the longest run, the two mile relay team—Chip Lewis, Tim Cook, Walt Bietsch and Denny Ausherman—broke last year's record with 8:17.3.

Tom Gartside did the pole vault by a new high, 12 feet 10½ inches, while Larry Frey bettered the record with 5 feet 11 inches in the high jump for the field events.

Although some of the winners of last year have gone, several returning lettermen bring a bright outlook to the team's upcoming season.

The 1969 Trojan golf team completed a very successful season with a record of twelve wins and no losses. They accumulated a fine total of 248½ points, while their opponents could come up with only 13½. The best season average was Jerry Frey's 77, which was followed closely by Chuck Rahauser's 78.5. CASHS was represented in District III competition by Chuck Rahauser, Courtney Graham, Jim Butterfus, Jerry Frey, and Jim Weber. To give their already-great season an even greater ending, the Trojans had two of their teammates, Jim Butterfus and Courtney Graham travel to Penn State for the State School-boy Championship.

CROSS COUNTRY

The 1969 Cross Country team ended an undefeated season with thirteen wins and no losses. In the three years that CASHS has had this sport, the Trojan harriers compiled an excellent record of 36 wins and just one loss. Highlights of this year's season were the capturing of second place in the District III meet and twelfth place at the state meet. In the post-season Cumberland Valley Athletic Club meet, the Trojans finished in first place.

The number one runner for the Trojans was Dana Ward, who ran for nine first-places and twenty-first place in the district meet. Alvin Ramer, who finished twelfth in the district meet, ran number two for the CASHS harriers. He finished either first or second in every meet this year.

With seven of the top ten runners graduating in 1970, the cross country team's success next season will depend largely on the JV's and three returning varsity Trojans, Alvin Ramer, Joel Mowery, and Rick Cramer.

In the first half of the season the Trojans were in second place; but the second half proved more successful, and they captured first place. The Trojans traveled to the District III playoffs, in which they played the East Juniata Tigers. After playing to a 1-1 tie, the Tigers were awarded the victory on corner kicks, 6-3.

Leading kicker for this year's team was Dick Cave who had eight goals. He was followed closely by Jim Olson, who booted in seven, and Jeff Carter with six goals.

Post-season honors came when three Trojans were named to the South Penn Soccer League. Goalie Duck Edwards, Halfback Monty Jarrett, and lineman Dick Cave earned berths on the squad's first team. Fullbacks John Jacobs and Garnet Davis, halfback Denny Meek, and lineman Jim Olson were listed on the second team roster, while Trojan lineman Roger Bernecker was given honorable mention.
